PLAIN AND FANCY BOOK AND JOB PRINTING LT BILL-HEADS, VISITING, BUSINESS AND ADDRESS CARDS printed in the highest style of the art.

- It stands in a sunny meadow, The house so mossy and brown,
- The trees fold their green arms round it, The trees a century old; And the winds go chanting through them,
- Within, in the wide old kitchen, The old folks sit in the sun.
- Till the day is almost done. They sit in the sun alone; And the old wife's ears are falling
- As she harks to the well-known tone That won her heart in her girlhood-That has soothed her in many a care-
- She thinks again of her bridal-
- In the morning's rosy light. Oh! the morn is rosy as ever, And the sunshine still is golden,
- But it falls on a silvered head. Come back in her winter time,
- With the thrill of springtime's prime. And, looking forth from the window, She thinks how the trees have grown, Since, clad in her bridal whiteness,
- She crossed the old door-stone. Though dimmed her eyes' bright szure, And dimmed the hair's young gold
- Has never grown dim or old. They sat in peace in the sunshine Till the day was almost done,
- Stole over the threshold stone. He folded their hands together-He touched their eyelids with balm, And their last breath floated outward,
- Like the close of a solemn psalm ! Like a bridal pair they traversed The unseen mystical road, That leads to the Beautiful City
- Whose "builder and maker is God." Perhaps, in that miracle country, They will give her lost youth back, And the flowers of the banished springtime
- Will bloom in the spirit's track. One draught from the living waters Shall call back his manhood's prime and eternal years shall measure
- But the shapes that they left behind them, The wrinkles and silver hair-Made holy to us by the kisses The angels had printed there-
- We will hide away 'neath the willows, When the day is low in the west; Where the sunbeams cannot find them, Nor the winds disturb their rest.
- With its age and date, to rise In the Father's house in the skies. -Inter-Ocean.

- With its cumbrous old stone chimneys, And the gray roof sloping down.
- And the sunbeams drop their gold. The cowslips spring in the marshes, The roses bloom on the hill. And beside the brook in the pasture The herds go feeding at will.
- That creeps through the sheltering woodbine, The children have gone and left them;
- And praises her now for the brightness Her old face used to wear. How, dressed in a robe of white,
- She stood by her gay young lover But the rose from her cheek is fled;
- And the girlhood dreams, once banished, Till her feeble pulses tremble
- The love in girlhood plighted
- And then, at its close, an angel
- The love that outlasted time
- And we'll suffer no tell-tale tombstone, O'er the two that are old no longer,
